Trip Reports

Hiwassee, August 8, 2009

By Kary Scarborough

The August 8 beginner trip led by Ariana Beste and Kary Scarborough consisted of 11 kayaks, 2 C-1s, 4 fun yaks, and a raft. Joining us on the trip were John Wisinger, Rick, Pat, and Mathew Zingg, Sharon and Mike Burger, Randy Willis, Nina Balke, Patrick Geoghegan, Tim Newton, Josh Golliher, Billy Bob Scarborough, plus Jimmy Jones and Don Holtzclaw and their families.

Several of us met at the Mayfield dairy in Athens for the traditional ice cream treat before the river trip. Where else can you get 3 scoops of ice cream for the price of one? Billy Bob swears he won't do the Hiwassee unless we stop at Mayfield's on the way.

We met everyone else at the take-out and were ready to put on the river by 11:30 when the two generator's flow got down to the put in. We informally broke into 3 groups but managed to all go down the river pretty much together.

Sharon and Mike did great; it was hard to believe they hadn't paddled since the clinic in June. Sharon got in a good long surf at the surfing wave on river right down below the first rapid. Nina looked like she was enjoying her new-found surfing skills, too. Ariana got everyone practicing ferries and s-turns at the little island down below the double ledge. John made a beautiful ferry by surfing the wave across on the first part of the route to do the upstream ferry move and run the rapid again.

On down the river, several people worked and played at Thread the Needle. We ferried over to the river right picnic tables for lunch and were entertained by a pint-size dog retrieving logs thrown in the water by his owner.

At Oblique Falls the raft crew parked their raft at the top in the perfect spot to show the funyaks where to run just to the left of them. I think they deserve an award for that awesome move.

Patrick has to receive the "working hard at playing" award for the day. He has upped his skill level tremendously since the clinic by all the energy he is putting into paddling. Of course, he does seem to be enjoying it, too.

Remember this—Josh always carries an extra spray skirt in his car if you ever forget yours. He also brought along a Dollar Store water pump (a.k.a. squirt gun) which was great for emptying water out of a filled kayak. Josh worked really hard on answering the question: How many tries and how many boats does it take to get someone back into a C-1 that's full of water after a swim?

John was practicing rolls at Lost Creek and one of his paddle blades bent in half on his first attempt. His second attempt worked fine but kind of looked strange with a bent blade. The blade bent back to normal and John was able to finish the river by not putting much pressure on it. The paddle was an almost new Werner with plastic blades.

Mike almost learned the hard way that you should put your name on your gear—especially your paddle. He lost his good Werner paddle at Devil's Shoals and we searched for it downstream with no luck. We did get lucky though when another paddler heard us talking and said he found it in the eddy on river left at the beginning of the rapid and threw it up on shore behind the photographer's sign. Mike was able to retrieve his paddle and even encountered an excursion train on his hike up along the railroad. Paddlers will usually make an effort to return gear that has a name on it but gear without a name may be considered river booty!

On the way home, several of us enjoyed eating supper at the Mexican restaurant in Etowah.

The revision of the By Laws will be discussed.
